

How to Find the Best Invention Help

When looking for invention help, there are several options available. There are InventHelp services, patent referral services, and the United Inventors Association. These options can provide you with the guidance you need to make the most of the invention-making process. In addition to these resources, there are many other methods of have an idea for an invention help you can use.

InventHelp

If you have a great idea but aren't sure how to sell it, InventHelp can help you. This company works with inventors every step of the way to bring their product to life. They can also find investors and partners to help them make their dream a reality. InventHelp is a proven leader in the industry and has a track record of success.

InventHelp has a database of more than 9000 companies. While they don't give opinions on your invention, they can help you present it to the right people and get it marketed. By providing professional advice, InventHelp helps you protect your idea.

United Inventors Association

United Inventors Association offers several options for invention ideas help. They are a nonprofit organization with free and paid memberships. The difference between the free and paid memberships is access to the article library. If you're interested in receiving information and resources to help you with your invention, you may be interested in becoming a Gold Seal member.

Warren Tuttle, the president of United Inventors Association, has been working with independent inventors for more than 30 years. He has also overseen Open Innovation programs at two major consumer product companies. He knows what it takes to get an idea to market, and he's here to help you achieve success.

Patent referral services

InventHelp patent referral services help entrepreneurs get the license for their inventions. These services help inventors find the right patent attorney and explain the process of patenting their invention. The patent attorney will also help the inventor identify any prior art that is relevant to their invention. In the end, patenting your new invention ideas ensures that your work will be protected by law.

InventHelp works with inventors to package and submit their product ideas to companies. They also provide patent referral services and have helped secure over 9,000 patents. InventHelp also hosts the INPEX trade show in Pittsburgh every summer, which is the largest invention trade show in the country. It gives inventors a great opportunity to network and meet other inventors.

Signs of a scam

Beware of the promises of invention marketing companies who claim they will pitch your idea to a third-party company, but don't deliver on those promises. Instead, they ask you to pay them for additional "pitches" and other services that won't deliver results. In addition, they won't give you written documentation or disclose their success rates. They usually rely on royalties from successful clients and don't provide a guarantee for their services.